

Army Welfare Education Society (AWES) Teaching Vacancies 2024-25

The Army Welfare Education Society (AWES) is an organization that manages and oversees educational institutions for the children of Indian Army personnel. It operates a network of Army Public Schools (APS) and Army Public School-affiliated colleges across India. These schools and colleges provide education from kindergarten to higher secondary levels, as well as undergraduate and postgraduate programs in some cases. The aim of AWES is to ensure quality education for the children of Indian Army personnel, who are often required to relocate frequently due to their parents' postings.

Eligibility –

PGT	Candidates should have a post-graduate degree and a B.Ed with a minimum of 50% overall average.
TGT	Candidates must possess a graduate degree and a bachelor's degree in education with at least 50% marks in each.
PRT	Candidates should have a graduation degree and a two-year D.El.Ed./B.El.Ed. OR candidates with a B.Ed. can apply if they meet the requirement of a six-month PDPET/Bridge Course from an NCTE-recognized institution with 50% marks in both. This should be completed within two years of recruitment as PRT or at the beginning of the course, whichever comes later.
