

Asian Academy of Film and Television School of Fashion & Design

Gain in-depth analysis of various stages of the fashion and design industry with AAFT's UG and PG degrees. Being one of the best fashion designing colleges in Delhi, we aim to sensitize students toward the fashion industry through engaging lectures and workshops by industry experts, field visits, and first-hand projects.

AAFT's fashion design school offers specialization degree courses in fashion design, fashion communication, jewelry design, fashion communication, and textile design. We aim to provide hands-on experience to students through extensive training that matches international standards, preparing them to face future industry challenges with confidence.
